

myIATA user

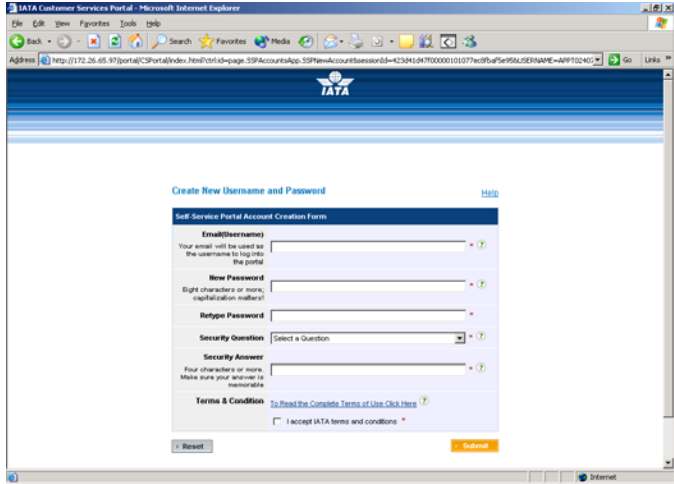

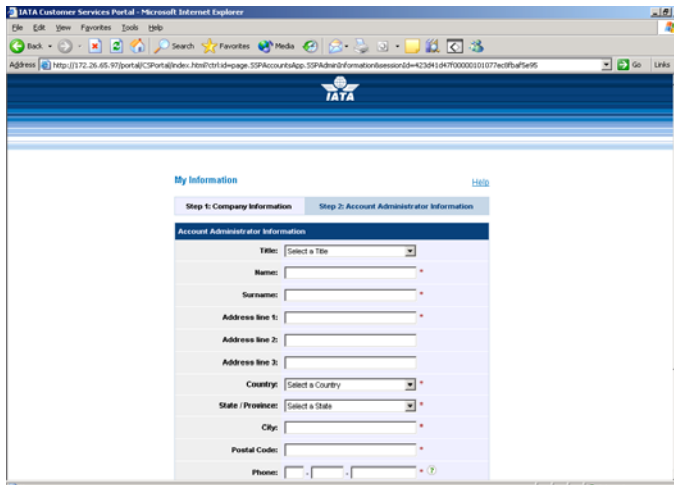

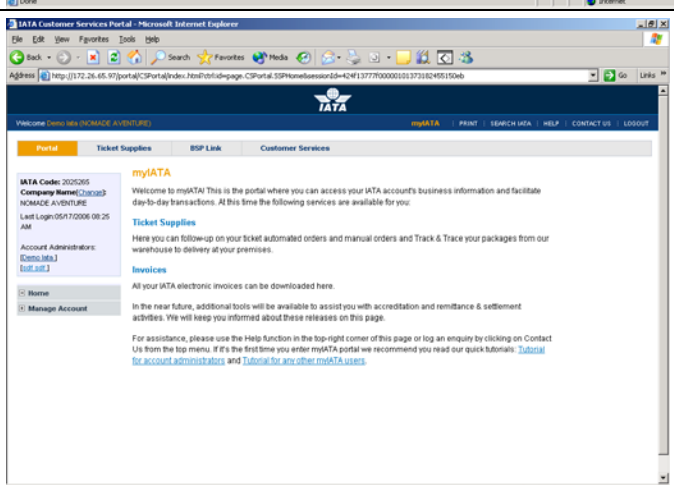

Congratulations, you have an account in myIATA! Please find below a list of actions to take to get started and benefit from the services offered!

myIATA

myIATA myIATA is accessible from www.myista.org. Select the “Go to myIATA” picture from the right of the page.	Related screen
Login with the temporary username and password that have been sent to you.
You will then reach myIATA home page.

Initial tasks

Steps	Related screen
Registration When you login to myIATA using your temporary identification, you will automatically be requested to change this identification: <ol style="list-style-type: none">1. Account name should be your email address2. Password3. Security question4. Agree on terms and conditions Account information You will then be requested to fill your contact information.
myIATA home page You now have access to myIATA! Information about your Account Administrator is available in the left side of the myIATA home page.

Responsibilities

Task	Related screen
Maintaining your account information updated Keep your account up to date (account information, password, security question...) Your email will be used as communication channel between myIATA and you and it is therefore important that this information is always up to date.

Access business information

Business information

Access to Ticket Supplies

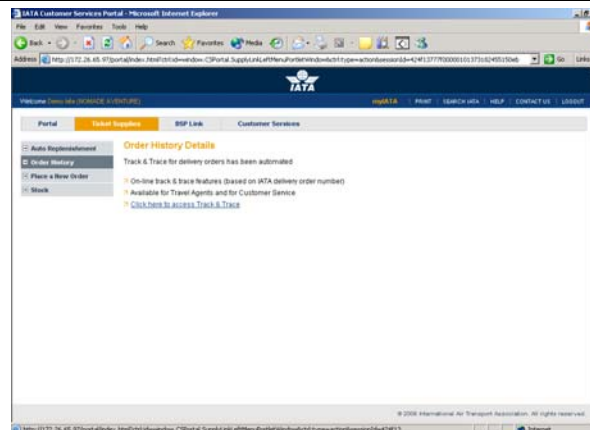

Access to business information is granted to you by your Account Administrator. Information about your Account Administrator is available in the left side of myIATA home page.

Related screen

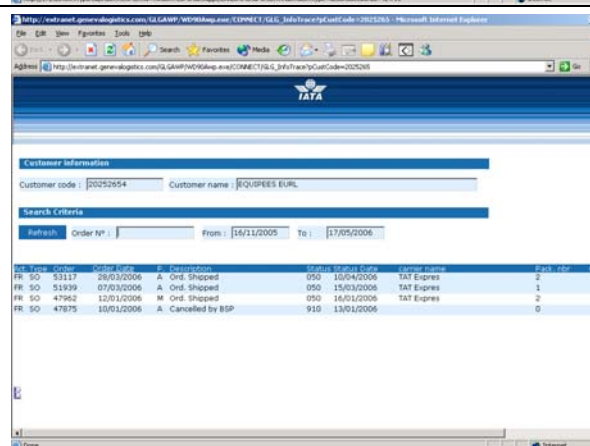

Application link

Order history

Select Track and Trace

Access to the business information

Need Help?

Help, support and tutorials

Each time you are in browsing a page, you can click the Help located in the top right menu.

Do you have any problems using the site? Please go to Customer Services section and log an enquiry

A tutorial is available from the home page

Can you not see some business information? Please contact your administrator. Administrator information is available in the left side of the home page.

Related screen

